

Obituary Notes.

The Rev. JOHN ALEXANDER DENNISON, curate of St. Augustine's chapel of Trinity Parish, died on Wednesday. For many years he had held the office. He was born in New York and was a graduate of Columbia University and the General Theological Seminary.

ROBERT REID, head of one of the largest ice cream manufacturing establishments in this city for twenty years, who was also head of a large creamery concern, died on Wednesday at his home, 315 Sterling Place, Brooklyn. Mr. Reid was 60 years old and was born in this city. A widow survives him.

JOHN T. NEILON, manager of the Brooklyn Branch of Henry Clews & Co., bankers, for many years, died on Tuesday at his home, 114 Ryerson Street, Brooklyn. He was fifty-two years old and unmarried. Mr. Neilon was a member of the Brooklyn Elks and the Borough Hall Business Men's Association.

JOHN H. MALLON, 48 years old, former Supervisor and ex-Assemblyman, died suddenly at his home in Buffalo, N. Y., yesterday.

LUCY CAROLINE VAN TASSEL, the widow of Jacob Van Tassel, is dead at her home, 674 Park Place, Brooklyn. Mrs. Van Tassel was born in Manhattan in 1834 and her father was the first ladies' boot maker in this city.

Mrs. J. PEMBROKE THOM, State Regent of the Daughters of the American Revolution, is dead at her home in Baltimore.

GEORGE H. JONES, a civil engineer who lived at 121 West Ninety-first Street, fell dead on the platform of the Twenty-third Street station of the Sixth Avenue Elevated Railroad early yesterday morning. He was 70 years old, and the cause of his death is thought to have been heart disease. Mr. Jones was for forty years a member of the Masonic order and a charter member of New York Commandery.

Mrs. MARY NORMAN, wife of Capt. Francis Norman, the marine superintendent of a line of steamers plying between New York and the Far East, died Tuesday night at her home, 307 Stratford Road, in the Flatbush section of Brooklyn. Mrs. Norman had been around the world several times on ships commanded by her husband. Six years ago Capt. and Mrs. Norman went to Brooklyn to make their home.

EDWARD P. HART of Freeport, L. I., who served with the New York forces in the Philippine uprisings, is dead at his home as the result of diseases contracted in the tropics. He had been ill since his return to this country fourteen years ago. Mr. Hart was thirty-two years old.

HARRY W. BERRYMAN, a former member of the Orange Common Council, died last night at the Essex County Homeopathic Hospital, of meningitis. Mr. Berryman was 32 years old, and a native of Orange. He served two three-year terms in the Council.

The Rev. Dr. BENJAMIN WARREN ATWELL, an Episcopal clergyman, died suddenly at his home in Newton, Mass., yesterday. The Rev. Dr. Atwell was 75 years of age, and for several years had been retired from parochial work.

Miss Caroline W. Fuller, eighty-four years of age, a descendant of Samuel Fuller, who came to America in the Mayflower, died yesterday at the residence of her nephew, E. M. F. Miller, 797 Lexington Avenue. She was born in Brooklyn and has one sister living, Mrs. Martha C. Miller.

JOHN PICTOR DONIPHAN, a Director of the American Manufacturing Company, died yesterday at his residence, 282 Jefferson Avenue, Brooklyn. He was born in 1848 at Lynchburg, Va.

Mrs. MARY SAMLER DAVIS, 74 years of age, wife of Robert Vernon Davis and mother of Justice Vernon M. Davis, of the Supreme Court, died yesterday afternoon after a long illness at her residence in this city. Mrs. Davis was a daughter of Nicholas Samler, a member of an old New York family, and Jane Ogden Mansfield Samler.

GILBERT LONGFELLOW, a cousin of the poet, died at his home in Pasadena, Cal., yesterday, aged 88 years.

WALLACE M. SOVEREL, 70 years old, one of the pioneer ice dealers of the Oranges, died Wednesday night at his home in East Orange, N. J., of heart disease.

WILLIAM B. WEEDEN, a retired mill owner, died at his home in Providence, R. I., yesterday, aged 78. At one time he was in control of the Weybosset mills, now owned by the American Woolen Company.